

JusticeAid is pleased to announce sponsorship options for our 2019 fall events.

This year, we are doing something different. In order to keep delivering vital support to key change-makers and to expand our calls to action against racism, poverty, mass incarceration, and injustice, we are presenting two superb jazz talents in support of our own work at JusticeAid.

- Matthew Whitaker in New York City on Oct. 15, 2019
- The Baylor Project in Washington, DC on Oct. 22, 2019

Your support will not only help increase awareness for your own accomplishments and efforts to advance the public good but also help ensure that JusticeAid is able to raise money through arts entertainment to assist nonprofits committed to relieving people suffering injustice.

Since our founding six years ago, JusticeAid has raised support and "calls to action" for a dozen grassroots justice organizations on the front lines fighting for civil rights. Working primarily as a volunteer organization, we have presented over two dozen artists in concert, raising over $850,00—and more than $375,000 this past year alone for The Immigrant Defense Project, Civil Rights Corps, and Essie Justice Group.
