

Photo: Jeannine Cook

JUSTICE AID

Hi, I'm Dominique, and that's me behind the camera...

What issues do you care about? | Dreamers | Voter Suppression | Poverty | Police Brutality | Bullying

LGBT Rights | Global Warming | Fair Housing

If you're like me, you're getting worried about the future of our generation and our ability to make real change. Through my lens, I hope to inspire my peers to get engaged in our #election2020 and vote. Please join me on the Democracy 2020 Youth Film Challenge —and make your voices heard.

The Film Challenge is a unique, national film and social media competition created by the Civic Life Project in partnership with JusticeAid. The Challenge urges youth (15-25 years) to participate in civic life and vote in 2020. The JusticeAid Prize focuses on entries with social justice themes.

WE HAVE WORK TO DO!

1 Create a short documentary or social media campaign on a justice issue that you care deeply about in the 2020 election. Convince your peers of its urgency, and get them to the polls!

Submit your film at civiclifeproject.org. Submit your film at civiclifeproject.org
The deadline has been extended to August 14, 2020.

2

3

Watch the Winners! JusticeAid Prize winners will be announced Sept 2020 and screened at the JusticeAid Film Forum in Washington, D.C. Selected entries will air on JusticeAid and Civic Life Project's social media channels.

Don't miss the Tool Box with tips about every stage of production.

Generous Prizes for documentary films & social campaigns

JusticeAid Gold: $2,000
JusticeAid Silver: $1,000
JusticeAid Bronze: $500

The JusticeAid Prize is a new category in the Film Challenge. Entrants qualify for additional prizes from the Democracy 2020 Youth Film Challenge; winning submissions could potentially be awarded up to $7,000!

* Pictured above: Dominique, 19 years old, is a filmmaker living in Philadelphia, where she focuses on issues confronting urban communities.